EDUCATIONAL KITS

Developing a good relationship with education is very important for preschoolers. Educational Kits were developed as a vehicle for parent and child interaction and learning. Once the pandemic began and preschools were closed or turned to virtual learning, these kits became an important tool. The parent and child learning is purposeful and creates an excellent opportunity for ongoing interaction. Inside each Educational Kit you will find: a themed book, stuffed animal to accompany the book, reading comprehension question set, guided activities that work to develop a strong parent-child relationship, journal to keep track of activities, items for each guided activity, school supplies, and one backpack. Children are provided with a different kit every month, themes change monthly to keep children interested and engaged. Our aim is to improve cognitive and motor skills ensuring our preschoolers are kindergarten ready.

STORIES OF IMPACT

Zahir and his older brother Xavier are current participants in our Learning Lab. Zahir had not yet started preschool and was a perfect candidate for our Educational Kits. He absolutely loves his backpack and wears it everywhere. His mother keeps us updated on his progress and tells us that he is getting better at letter recognition and was able to answer all our guided reading questions that were included in his kit. He is excited to receive his next themed kit and add to his stuffed animal collection while learning some new skills! Our goal is to help the preschoolers with basic reading and math skills early on, giving them a good foundation to prepare them for kindergarten. We are so happy with Zahir's progress and look forward to hearing more from his mom!
